No. 150.

BRIEF ITEMS.

P. H. Chambers of Warm Springs, anch is in the city and reports the range for cattle good in his neighborhood, and the outlook for ranching very favorable.-Citizen.

Sam Finley has purchased an interest in the restaurant and sample rooms adjoining the Occidental hotel. Sam is well known throughout the city and county and he is assured of a liberal patronage.-Star.

The Tucson Tennis club now has a membership of sixteen and many new names are being added to the list daily.
Two match games will be played in the and other local clubs. - Star.

The cases appealed from the district to the supreme court are being prepared by Clerk Hoover for hearing at the opening of the suprema court in Phoenix the second Monday in January, 1899. There are eight cases in all.-Star.

C. T. Sharp, Indian trader and son of Indian farmer, W. C. Sharp, of Sacaton, is visiting Tucson on land business, reports that the Pima Indians are mak ing considerable progress of late years, and that Agent Hadley is rendering good satisfaction. It is expected to do some building soon to extend the school facilities for the Indian youth. About 7,000 Indians occupy this reservation, extending miles along the Gila river, with a varying width of from five to fifteen miles. The principal productions of the reservation are wheat and corn, a considerable proportion of which finds a market in this city .--Citizen.

Last Tuesday morning's Star says: SALOON DEPARTMENT_ Senator Eugene S. Ives, of Yuma, was in the city yesterday. Senator Ives is expecting the hearing of the motion by the supreme court on the rehearing of any day, which will, we suppose, make a final disposition of the grant either for or against the claimants. This will prove a great boon for Yuma county in particular and Arizona in general, as the final determination of the title will throw open a large area of the most productive land in the territory to settlement and reclaimation and then Yuma city will soon become the rival of the largest class in the territory. Senator Ives is one of the ablest lawyers and about the most eloquent public eaker Arizona can boast of as he is a product of the New York school of public men, which rank among the first in the land. The senator returned to Yuma this morning.

J. J. Pompa, a Sonora cattleman, arrived in town several days ago with a band of cattle for L. Zeckendorf & Co. In crossing the line he received a permit to keep the horses used in driving the cattle, ten days in United States territory. These permits are issued by the United States government to enable Mexican cattlemen to drive their stock across the line without being compelled to pay duty on the horses, if returned to Mexico within the stipulated ten days. Mr. Pompa delivered his beeves and prepared to return home when an attachment was placed on one of his horses for debt. He returned the balance of his horses, ten in number. across the line before the expiration of the ten days but the eleventh, being held by attachment remained behind. The matter will probably be settled in the courts and whether the cattleman will be obliged to pay the duty on returning his horse to Mexico remains to be seen .- Star.
